Along the Waterfront

Saturday, July 20, was a day of celebration and exploration at Waterfront Park. Citizens and City staff, enjoyed the dedication of the magnificent Flight of Life great blue heron sculptures with the Gargiulo Art Foundation, the launch of nine new QR Code stations with original videos produced by the City, and the 4th annual bicycle "Tour de Palm Coast". Visitors to the park are now able to enhance their park experience by watching videos accessible through QR Codes posted on along the trails.

The short videos feature info presented by local officials on such topics as the history of the Intracoastal Waterway, gopher tortoises, Florida native plants, manatees and the new bronze sculptures.

International Distance Skateboard Association Site Visit

City staff participated in a site visit coordinated by the Palm Coast & the Flagler Beaches Tourist Development Council for the International Distance Skateboard Association (IDSA). The group was very impressed by our community and coordination among government partners. The IDSA has tentatively agreed to host an event in our community in January 2014.

A Meeting and a Tour

Mayor Netts and I attended the Volusia TPO Subcommittee meeting this week, representing the City. The subcommittee is working to change its name to better describe the region it serves. The proposed name change is “River-To-Sea TPO”.

Council Members, City staff, and representatives from Flagler County, Bunnell, Flagler Beach, and Beverly Beach, provided a tour to TPO members, their staff, and sub-committee members. The tour provided the TPO with a sample of the City’s amenities, an overview of Palm Coast’s background/history and an overview of future transportation projects of the City of Palm Coast.

Guest Speakers

Our speakers are exceptionally well-qualified to draw on personal experiences in developing a culture of innovation in their organizations. Innovation in product and/or service requires a commitment to continuous improvement in all that we do. New ideas keep our businesses relevant and competitive. Understanding how to enlist the participation in this requires starts with a foundation of TRUST. We understand that every new idea will not work as planned yet we are committed to challenging everyone in the organization to improve how work gets done and how need ideas are brought forward in a supporting business environment. Both Ellen and Dr. Miren have achieved success in their profession by bringing out the best in everyone, challenging them to think broader and higher.

PLANNING

- City staff attended the Volusia Transportation Planning Organization (TPO) By-laws Subcommittee meeting. The proposed changes have a direct impact on the City since they include changing the meeting day to the third Wednesday of the month in order to accommodate all new and old members, as well as changing the name of the TPO to be more descriptive of the region it serves. The proposed name is the River-To-Sea TPO.
- City staff, in coordination with staff from Flagler County, Bunnell, Flagler Beach, and Beverly Beach provided a tour for board members of the Volusia TPO, as well TPO staff and TPO sub-committee members. The Tour provided an overview of background/history of Palm Coast, a sample of the available amenities in the City of Palm Coast, as well as an overview of future transportation projects. The Tour is part of an on-going effort by the City to orient Volusia TPO members and all their staff and sub-committee members on perception versus reality regarding the City of Palm Coast.

Green Team

- Nine new Quick Response (QR) Code stations were unveiled at Waterfront Park, covering multiple topics concerning wildlife, nature, history, environmental issues, and park sculpture. This effort broadens the experience of visitors to the park, and provides a new way to learn about the environment and park surroundings. The Fourth Annual Tour de Palm Coast was also held in conjunction with this event and attracted approximately two dozen riders. The purpose of this tour is to familiarize residents and visitors with the City's trail system, while at the same time, stopping along the way to provide background information on the trail development plans, gateway signage program, and the Art in Public Places program. All riders were furnished a City trails map upon completion of the ride. The morning activities culminated with the unveiling of the "Flight of Life" sculptures, donated to the City by the Gargiulo Art Foundation. Please visit this park to experience the new QR codes and see these four magnificent life-sized blue herons flying in formation along the coastline of the Intracoastal Waterway.

QR Code demonstration

4th Annual Tour de Palm Coast

"Flight of Life" sculpture unveiling

- City staff offered Fun in the Sun Summer Campers an Eco-Station Rotation at as part of Treasure Hunters Week. The 4th through 8th grade campers rotated through three Waterfront Park Eco-stations, where they learned about park wildlife, and native and nonnative vegetation. Students were also given a sneak peek into a gopher tortoise burrow to see other Florida creatures that inhabit the gopher’s home. While the older campers were learning about park wildlife the K – 3rd grade campers were learning about the life cycles of butterflies, insects, and amphibians. At the end of the day, the young campers were all smiles during the native butterfly release.

Pine Lakes Parkway North Improvements

Animals ready for homes

261 cats

98 dogs

2 birds

1 hamster

Maddie was a sweet and friendly little 2-year old cat. She was adopted from the Flagler Humane Society in November 2012 and had settled in happily with her new family. But sadly, Maddie's story ended last month when someone took advantage of her trusting nature and shot her point blank in the head and left her to die. Since Maddie lived in a gated neighborhood, it is pretty certain that her murderer was a neighbor or a friend of a neighbor, someone who had access to the community and the freedom to wander around with a gun without raising any suspicion.

It may have been a child who shot Maddie, which is bad enough. But, if the person who killed Maddie is an adult, it is even more frightening. People—be they children, adolescents, teens or adults—who abuse animals are very likely to go on to commit violent acts against humans.

The FBI sees animal cruelty as a predictor of violence against people and considers past animal abuse when profiling serial killers. Virtually every serial or mass murderer that we know about was found to have had a history of animal cruelty.

Many studies have established that from 54 to 71 percent of women seeking shelter from abuse reported that their partners had threatened, injured, or killed one or more family pets. People who physically abuse children are very likely to have engaged in injuring or killing a companion animal in the family.

Animal cruelty is a warning sign for at-risk youth. It is an indicator that children pose a risk to themselves and to others. Children who engaged in animal abuse are much more likely to grow up to think that physical violence against children and/or spouse abuse is acceptable behavior.

Animal abuse cannot and should never be tolerated, even if a child is the perpetrator. Often the kindest thing one can do if a child is suspected of animal abuse is to report them so that they can get treatment they need to overcome these violent tendencies.

It's time to stop ignoring the signs of animal abuse and animal cruelty. Maddie's case is more than the senseless death of an innocent cat. It is evidence that a disturbed person lives in the community and anyone who has any information on her sad death should immediately contact the Flagler Humane Society. Let's be sure that no other animal ever has to suffer like little Maddie.

Special Announcements

Don't miss our annual Bark and Bowl party on August 11 at Palm Coast Lanes. Whether you bowl or not, come on and join the fun. We had to turn people away last year so don't miss out. You can get your tickets online (www.flaglerhumanesociety.org) or at the Shelter. This is always a great party!

Pet of the Week

MONTY

Monty is an awesome, neutered male, independent cat that would love to hang out in a window and watch the world go by. He is 6 years old and is up to date on all vaccinations. He is good with other cats. Monty originally came to the Humane Society in May of 2012 when his owner couldn't care for him anymore. He was then adopted in December of 2012 but returned last month because the other cats in the residence did not like him and would not allow him to get comfortable in the home. Monty would love to make someone a lovable companion. He is waiting patiently at the Flagler Humane Society.

'Innovation in Product and Service' topic of Aug. 8 Palm Coast BAC Lunch n Learn

Palm Coast, Fla. – Florida Hospital Flagler administrators Dr. Miren Schinco, M.D., and Ellen “Ellie” Lenkevich will be the speakers at the next program of the Palm Coast Business Assistance Center’s “Fearless and Focused: Women in Business” Lunch n Learn series, set for 11:15 a.m. to 1 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 8.

Schinco, medical director and surgeon at the hospital, and Lenkevich, the chief nursing officer, will talk about “Developing a Culture of Innovation in Product and Service.” Both women will provide personal perspectives on the importance of continuous improvement to keep businesses relevant and competitive.

The Lunch n Learn will be held at Grand Haven Golf Clubhouse, 500 Riverfront Drive, Palm Coast. To guarantee a spot, reservations should be made by Friday, Aug. 2, at www.palmcoastgov.com/BACTraining. The cost, which includes lunch, is $15.

This is the fourth of a five-part Lunch n Learn series offered by the BAC in partnership with the Flagler County Chamber of Commerce & Affiliates. Each program provides networking opportunities and allows business people to discuss various business topics in a roundtable environment. It is open to both women and men. The series is sponsored by Intracoastal Bank, and net proceeds this month will go to Florida Hospital Flagler Foundation.

The Palm Coast Business Assistance Center is a partnership between the City of Palm Coast and the University of Central Florida Small Business Development Center. The BAC’s mission is to help grow local businesses, and it offers personalized services to local businesses. Services include business plans, accounting templates, competitive analysis, business expansion strategies, market research, assistance with access to capital, production and inventory control, record-keeping options, and more. The BAC is located at City Offices at City Marketplace, 160 Cypress Point Parkway, Suite B-105, Palm Coast, and its website is www.PalmCoastBAC.com.
