The dedication will be held on Tuesday, October 4th at 6pm, on the pathway around Central Park Lake (near the southwest corner of the lake). The City welcomes the public and friends of Mr. Meeker to join the family and City officials at this event, as they honor Mr. Meeker for his dedication in public office.

New City Sign for Long Creek Nature Preserve

As part of the City's Adopt-a-Park Program, Long Creek Nature Preserve was adopted by Mike and Sherrill Crotts last year. As part of their bi-monthly duties they are assisting the City by planting native shrubbery and dune sunflowers around the newly completed monument sign. The sign was built in-house by the Public Works Department and is compliant with our new City Standard design incorporating native coquina rock veneer, black marble sign background and white lettering. This is an example of good cooperative effort that turned out beautifully and saved the City money by using volunteers and in-house construction.

The original McDonalds site plan was approved by Flagler County and constructed prior to the City of Palm Coast being incorporated. The proposed improvements will help eliminate existing queuing (car circulation) problems on-site. The project also includes exterior façade upgrades and ADA and sidewalk improvements.

Animals ready for homes

The Flagler Humane Society recommends that you research your dog trainer/behaviorist before investing the money in them. Many “trainers” are not licensed and are just individuals who know about dog training techniques. It is very important to choose someone who has had some training in how to appropriately evaluate your pet and their behavior issue. They should be trained in animal behavior and not just training methods. Make sure to use a behaviorist that enforces “positive reinforcement”. This method is more humane and your pet is more willing to accept it. For more information, you may always contact FHS for a behaviorist referral.

Donation Opportunities: The Flagler Humane Society Thrift Store always accepts donations. They cannot take in any computers/printers or large appliances at this time. Call 386-597-2839 and leave a message. All proceeds from the sales go to directly care for the homeless pets of Flagler County.

“Doghouse Donation Boxes” are found at all the fire stations in Flagler County. You can drop off donations anytime at your nearest fire station. FHS appreciates all donations, especially those from our Wish List (available at flaglerhumanesociety.org/wish-list). You can also purchase items via the Amazon.com link on the FHS website and ship them directly to the shelter.

Outreach Adoption Events: Don’t forget that FHS have volunteers and adoptable pets at the Farmer’s Market in Flagler Beach every Friday and at PetSmart in Palm Coast every Saturday and Sunday.

Interested in becoming a volunteer? Attend at volunteer orientation that are held at noon in the Humane Society education room every second Saturday of the month. We would love to see you there!

Interested in helping at Outreach Adoption Events? Join the SPOT Team and help to find homeless animals loving homes. If interested, email kshare@flaglerhumanesociety.org.

Adoption Specials: See the FHS Facebook and Website for Upcoming Adoption Specials.

Upcoming Fundraisers/Events: You can now register for the next “Paint your Pet” Yappy Hour hosted by FHS! You must register by October 17th to secure your seat. The event will be held on November 10th from 6 pm to 9 pm. Don’t miss out!

Public Announcements: The Flagler Humane Society has a variety of Subsidized Spay & Neuter Programs for members of the community that need to have their pets or community pets sterilized. Please call FHS at 386-445-1814, email info@flaglerhumanesociety.org for questions.

FHS has a Wellness Clinic for minor veterinary issues. Call 386-445-1814 for Appointments. Low Cost Vaccination Clinics will still be held on the 1st and 3rd Saturdays of every month from 1pm-3pm. No appointments are necessary for the Low Cost Vaccination Clinics. FHS also offers a “Pet Food Pantry” for those that are in need of assistance. Please call for more information.

To keep up with Flagler Humane Society happenings – visit us on the FHS Facebook/Twitter, our website at www.flaglerhumanesociety.org, or via email at info@flaglerhumanesociety.org.

Re: Week in Review

In the past week, the department responded to a total of 172 calls. There was one fire call. We responded to a cooking fire. A total of 106 EMS calls were logged and the balance was miscellaneous in nature. The drought index is at 194 out of a possible 800 and the fire danger is low.

Our CAD, Computer Aided Dispatch, was upgraded this week. As with any upgrade, there are a few glitches that are currently being worked out. A special thanks goes to Steve and Mirna in IT and Leo in the FD for upgrading all Fire Department computers starting at 4am and ending at 9pm. We truly appreciate all that you do!

Chief Beadle presented the apparatus replacement schedule requesting one commercial pumper this week. The current update on the twin engines is that one is in FL and the other one will be on the way soon!

We attended the Zika briefing by the Health Department.

Employee Academy was held at the Fire Department on Thursday. Employees arrived in time for lunch and enjoyed a meal with Chief Beadle. We thank the Fire Department Volunteers for their assistance!

We held a Basic Life Support class for Healthcare Providers this week. This course is designed to give healthcare professionals the ability to recognize several life-threatening emergencies, provide CPR, use an AED, and relieve choking in a safe, effective, and timely manner.

Palm Coast City Hall awarded prestigious LEED Green Building Certification

Palm Coast, Florida – Palm Coast City Hall has been awarded LEED certification at the Silver level for design and construction that demonstrates high performance in sustainable site development, water savings, energy efficiency, materials selection and indoor environmental quality.

The LEED (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) rating system, developed by the U.S. Green Building Council (USGBC), is the foremost program for buildings, homes and communities that are designed, constructed, maintained and operated for improved environmental and human health performance.

“The City is committed to strong environmental practices and programs, and we worked very hard to make our new City Hall resource-efficient and innovative in nature,” said City Administration Coordinator Denise Bevan. “So we are incredibly proud to receive the news that our new facility has been LEED certified at the Silver level!”

The Palm Coast City Council has for many years championed conservation and environmental stewardship, encouraging the Palm Coast community to care for land, water, air and wildlife. The City earned Florida Green Building Coalition’s “Green Local Government” designation in 2009 and, last year, was recertified at the Gold Level. That voluntary program laid the foundation for the City’s goal to earn LEED certification for the new City Hall, which opened in October 2015. The two-story, 41,309-square-foot building is located at 160 Lake Ave., adjacent to Central Park in Town Center.

City Hall achieved LEED certification at the Silver level for implementing practical and measurable strategies and solutions in numerous LEED categories. Based on the number of points achieved, each project receives one of four LEED rating levels: Certified, Silver, Gold and Platinum.

The environmentally friendly features at Palm Coast City Hall include LED lighting throughout, insulated and tinted windows, a highly efficient HVAC chiller system, drought-tolerant landscaping, low-flow plumbing fixtures, a roof that prevents solar heat gain on the roof, occupancy sensors to automatically control lighting, use of building materials with better indoor air quality attributes, and preferred parking for energy-efficient vehicles.

Palm Coast's is the fifth City Hall in Florida to be LEED-certified. More than 33,500 commercial projects have been certified, comprising more than 5 billion certified commercial square feet in all 50 states and more than 161 countries and territories. Of those, some 2,400 projects were completed by local governments.

"Buildings are a prime example of how human systems integrate with natural systems," said Rick Fedrizzi, CEO and founding chair, USGBC. "The Palm Coast City Hall project efficiently uses our natural resources and makes an immediate, positive impact on our planet, which will tremendously benefit future generations to come."

Highlights of the design and construction for which Palm Coast City Hall earned LEED certification points are broken down in the following LEED categories:

Sustainable Sites – site selection, bicycle storage, parking for energy-efficient vehicles, maximizing open space, stormwater design, roof design

Water Efficiency – landscaping, water-use reduction

Energy & Atmosphere – optimized energy performance, enhanced refrigerant management, green power

Materials & Resources – construction waste management, recycled content, use of regional materials, certified wood

Indoor Environmental Quality – outdoor air delivery monitoring, thermal comfort, low-emitting paints/coating/adhesives/sealants/flooring, indoor chemical and pollutant source control, controllability of lighting systems

Innovation in Design – reduced mercury in lamps, Green Building education, LEED Accredited Professional

City of Palm Coast invites public to Oct. 13 reception honoring Mayor Jon Netts

Palm Coast – Join the City of Palm Coast as “We Honor Your Honor” at a public reception on Thursday, Oct. 13, to celebrate Mayor Jon Netts’ 16 years of service to the City – as a Code Board member from 2000-2001, a City Council member from 2001-2007, and as Mayor since 2007.

The reception will be 4 to 6:30 p.m., with the formal program beginning at 5:15 p.m., in the Community Wing of Palm Coast City Hall, 160 Lake Ave., Palm Coast.

Mayor Netts and his wife, Priscilla, along with members of the City Council and Palm Coast employees, will welcome residents. Fire Chief Mike Beadle will emcee the event, and Council Member Jason DeLorenzo will be the main speaker. Several fun surprises are planned during the reception! Light refreshments will be served.

Mayor and Mrs. Netts moved to Palm Coast in 1992 from New Jersey, where he had also served in local government office. Mayor Netts was a professional educator, retiring as director of the Northern New Jersey Provisional Teacher Training Consortium for the New Jersey State Department of Education. He was also a licensed real estate broker and taught courses in real estate law and investment.

Mayor Netts started his public service to the City of Palm Coast shortly after incorporation and has had a statesman’s presence in Palm Coast ever since. His term will wrap up Nov. 15, when Mayor-Elect Milissa Holland will be sworn in.

A boater, Mayor Netts often tells audiences that he loves Palm Coast because it’s “clean, green, serene and marine.” He is active in many community, regional and statewide organizations, including as a member of the Northeast Florida Regional Council and the Florida Inland Navigation District. He has received numerous awards, including the 2015 Regional Leadership Award from the Northeast Florida Regional Council, a network of local governance serving seven counties and their 27 municipalities.

In the upcoming issue of the City’s Palm Coaster newsletter, the Mayor shares some words of wisdom from his career, including these two all-time favorites: “If you don’t care where you’re going, it doesn’t matter which path you take,” and “Even if you’re on the right path, you’ll get run over if you don’t keep moving.”

The City Charter limits the Mayor and Council Members to two consecutive terms per office, so it is now time for Mayor Netts to “keep moving” along. But we feel fortunate Palm Coast has been such a major part of Mayor Nett’s “path,” and the City invites everyone to join us Oct. 13 as “We Honor Your Honor.”
